Dear Lamoille North Supervisory Union Family:

I am pleased to write to you on the first official day of the winter season! As I reflect on the approaching Holiday break, I want to express my gratitude to all who help make Lamoille North a wonderful place to teach, learn and share ideas. I consider myself fortunate to serve our communities as your Superintendent.

I am grateful to our School Boards for their wisdom and leadership on behalf of all students. You give selflessly of your time and talents so that all students have opportunities to grow and learn.

Thank you to our parents and all caregivers for having faith in Lamoille North Supervisory Union Schools and for entrusting us with your wonderful children. They come with strong values, ideas, curiosity, tolerance and appreciation.

Thank you to our many school professionals who serve in all capacities and the Central Office team for your dedication to educational and organizational excellence. You strive to meet every expectation to create equity, access and opportunities for all of our students. I am humbled by your expertise and depth of knowledge.

And finally, I am so grateful for our talented, creative, optimistic and resilient students who inspire me everyday.

During this time, I encourage you to be inspired by the spirit of the season and to find happiness in acts of kindness and grace. May you open the doors to 2019 with confidence, connection to community, joy and purpose. And as always, please know that I am available to support you, whether that is having a conversation in my office or in town, or via email or telephone.

My very best to you,

Catherine Gallagher, M.Ed.
Superintendent of Schools
Lamoille North Supervisory Union
